Homeland Counter-Terrorism: Where We Are, Where We Are Going

The mission of this symposium is to educate the public on counter-terrorist prevention strategies and disaster response; this symposium will have a particular emphasis on Customs and Border Control, Managing the Radius of The Risk, and Transportation Security. We also have an opportunity to meet with a Regiment which formed as a direct result of current military efforts abroad.

The latest in a series of seminars hosted by the NJ Marine Corps Reserve Association, and others which focus on different pro-active aspects of terrorist prevention and disaster response. Attendance certificates will be distributed. Contact information regarding target audiences, sponsorship opportunities below. Registration and preliminary agenda on next page.
